DETAILED ACTION

1. A request for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, including the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e), was filed in this application after final rejection. Since this application is eligible for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, and the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e) has been timely paid, the finality of the previous Office action has been withdrawn pursuant to 37 CFR 1.114. Applicants' submission filed on 21 July 2003 has been entered.
2. Applicants' Amendment to 09/878,499 has been examined and remarks reviewed. Claims 1 and 5 are amended. Claims 1-5 are pending.

Claim Objections

3. Claim 4 is objected to under 37 CFR 1.75(c), as being of improper dependent form for failing to further limit the subject matter of a previous claim. Applicant is required to cancel the claims, or amend the claims to place the claims in proper dependent form, or rewrite the claims in independent form.
4. Claim 1 objected to because of the following informalities: Pursuant to claim 1, at line 18, "the I/O transmitter" lacks antecedent basis. Appropriate correction is required.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

5. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in-

(1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effect under this subsection of a national application published under section 122(b) only if the international application designating the United States was published under Article 21(2)(a) of such treaty in the English language; or

(2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that a patent shall not be deemed filed in the United States for the purposes of this subsection based on the filing of an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a).

Rejection of Claims 1, 2, and 5

6. Claims 1, 2, and 5 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Fitzhenry et al (Fitzhenry), U.S. PGPUB 2002/0184601. Fitzhenry discloses a method and apparatus for circuit design that avoids antenna rule violations.

7. Pursuant to claim 1 which recites a hard macro (¶ [0028]) having an antenna rule violation free I/O port (¶¶ [0032, 0033]) having a port metallic conductor in a low level metalization layer (see Fig. 2; ¶¶ [003, 0033]); an I/O transistor (¶ 0045) having a gate conductor separated from a diffusion region by a gate oxide layer; a top level metallic conductor of a highest level metalization layer that is electrically coupled to a diffusion region (¶¶ [0033, 0037, 0044, 0046, 0047, 0055]); an electrical connection between the port level metallic conductor and the gate conductor including a first conducting section extending from the gate conductor to the top level metallic conductor (¶¶ [0051, 0053, 0054, 0056]) and a second conducting section extending from the top level metallic conductor to the port level conductor (¶¶ [0051, 0053, 0054, 0056]).

8. Pursuant to claim 2, wherein the first and second conducting sections include a plurality of vias (¶¶ [0052, 0053] discloses V1 and V2) extending vertically between the adjacent metalization layers.

9. Pursuant to claim 5, it addresses the limitations already rejected in claim 1, supra, and incorporates a method of producing the hard macro. Fitzhenry also includes a method of producing, see e.g. claim 29 "a method of circuit design". Therefore claim 5 is likewise rejected using the rationale of claim 1.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

10. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

11. This application currently names joint inventors. In considering patentability of the claims under 35 U.S.C. 103(a), the examiner presumes that the subject matter of the various claims was commonly owned at the time any inventions covered therein were made absent any evidence to the contrary. Applicant is advised of the obligation under 37 CFR 1.56 to point out the inventor and invention dates of each claim that was not commonly owned at the time a later invention was made in order for the examiner to consider the applicability of 35 U.S.C. 103(c) and potential 35 U.S.C. 102(e), (f) or (g) prior art under 35 U.S.C. 103(a).

Rejection of Claim 3

12. Claim 3 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Fitzhenry and Applicants' admitted prior art. Fitzhenry discloses method and apparatus for circuit design that avoids antenna rule violations. Although Fitzhenry discloses a multi-layer circuit comprised of multiple circuit blocks (see, e.g. ¶ [0013, 0028], Fitzhenry does not explicitly delineate the names of the circuit components. Applicants' Background of the Invention, (in Applicants' specification page 1, lines 15-18) specifies that the circuit components include the specific macros claimed by Applicant, e.g. processor cores, memory arrays, input and output interface circuits, encodes, and decoders. It therefore would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art that Fitzhenry, coupled with Applicants' explicit prior art admission, teaches or suggests Applicants' claimed limitation.

13. Pursuant to claim 3, wherein the hard macro is selected from a group consisting of a processor, memory, an input interface circuit, an output interface circuit, an encoder, and a decoder (Fitzhenry [0028] and Applicants' specification page 1, lines 15-18).
